BOOK SYNOPSIS

On the eve of his twelfth birthday, David Dream receives the letter that will change his life forever.

Following the instructions contained in the message, the boy finds the door in the “time that has stopped” and opens the unfinished book. Suddenly, a fantastic creature, wounded and in pain, bursts into his room through an opening made of light. Uttering incomprehensible words in an unknown tongue, he entrusts the boy with a desperate mission. David sounds the taharan, the magic horn the creature had around its neck, and is projected into a mysterious, wild place: the Land of Arcon.

David must make a long journey to reach the Sky City and save the realm of the elves from the bloodthirsty army of Kahòs; but a terrible secret accompanies the boy born into the race of men.
